JERSEY EPISCOPAL PASTOR AND WOMAN ARE FOUND SLAIN

New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 16.—The bodies of Rev. Edward Hall, Rector of the Protestant Episcopal church of St. John the Divine here, and an unidentified young woman were found today under a tree on a farm near here the police announced. Both had been shot to death.

The bodies of Rev. Hall and the woman, who was well dressed, were lying on their backs. A straw hat covered the clergyman's face and a veil was over the woman's. Hall had been shot in the forehead and the woman in the breast.

Two children discovered the bodies and reported to the police who estimated that the victims had been dead for at least forty-eight hours. No weapon was found and the bodies were not moved pending an investigation by the authorities. Papers were spread about the bodies in confusion which led the police to believe that Hall's body had been searched.

Hall had a wife and three children. He had been missing since Thursday. Several of the papers found near the bodies were letters addressed to Hall in a woman's hand.

HERO OF KUT EL AMARA DECLARES ALLIES MUST SURRENDER CONSTANTINOPLE OR PRECIPITATE A MOSLEM HOLY WAR

London, England, Sept. 16.—Great Britain has invited Greece, Roumania and Serbia to participate in the defence of the neutral zone around the Dardanelles, menaced by the Turks. This followed despatch of a joint note by Great Britain, France and Italy warning Mustapha Kemal not to attempt invasion of the neutral zone.

Paris, France, Sept. 16.—The Allies must surrender Constantinople or precipitate a holy war which would menace the existence of the British Empire, General Townsend, hero of Kut el Amara, declared here today.

"We had better make peace with Mustapha Kemal while we can," he warned. General Townsend said Kemal had outlined his terms to him and that he had forwarded them to Lloyd George. They included independence for territories where Turkish population is in the majority. General Townsend was in command of the British Mesopotamian army during the great war and surrendered only after bitter resistance lasting for months.

Athens, Greece, Sept. 16.—British reinforcements were landed at Constantinople today while Turkish cavalry rode to within a few miles of the city. Four British cruisers and eight destroyers conveyed the troops to the Turkish capital, which Mustapha Kemal, leader of the nationalist forces, threatens to seize from the Allies. Two regiments and an airplane squadron comprised the reinforcements landed at the city.

Constantinople, Sept. 16.—Uprisings of Moslems here simultaneous with an attack by the Turkish nationalist forces is under way to have been decided upon by leaders of the Mohammedans. The Allies are making preparations to suppress such an attack. Mustapha Kemal probably would ensue if the troops here were overpowered. Mustapha Kemal cavalry were reported only a few miles from the city, evidently reconnoitering. The main army has extended its left wing also to within a short distance of the city. The Allies are rushing troops to the scene and one unconfirmed report stated that twenty-five British transports carrying British troops are en route here.

Athens, Sept. 16.—Unconfirmed estimates from Armenian sources today were that 70,000 Christians were massacred in Smyrna and 50,000 elsewhere by the Turks in their recent hostilities. Refugees along the Smyrna quay are estimated at 500,000. A detachment of Allied marines attempted to land at Smyrna but were kept from so doing by Kemal forces massed on the docks. TURKISH TERMS OF PEACE MADE PUBLIC TODAY

Paris, France, Sept. 16.—The Turkish armistice terms were made public today in a despatch from their leaders. They are:

1. Greece to withdraw its armies from the territory claimed by the Turks.
2. Greece must recognize Turkish sovereignty in Asia Minor.
3. All parties named by the Turks as guilty of atrocities must be surrendered by the Greeks.

BONUS BILL GOES TO PRESIDENT FOR EXECUTIVE ACTION

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—The soldier bonus bill will be sent to President Harding today for his approval or veto. It is generally expected that the President will veto the bill. Bonus supporters today were doing their utmost to secure enough votes to override a Presidential veto in case the President should take that course.

Washington, Sept. 15.—The Senate adopted the conference report on the soldier bonus bill late today by a vote of 36 to 17 and it will go to President Harding tomorrow as the House formerly had taken favorable action. During debate on a parliamentary question, Chairman McCumber of the Finance Committee, said that while he had no direct information from the White House, he had heard that the President would sign the bill in its present form. This, however, did not square with the opinions of most of the other senators, who seemed convinced that the President would veto the bill.

Senator McCumber, when questioned about the authority for his statement by Senator Harrison (Dem) of Mississippi, was forced to admit that he could give no assurances and that the situation was "up in the air." He added that there were enough senators "who at heart want to help the soldiers," to override a veto if they would remain to cast their votes and he urged them to do so.

Vote Two to One

Twenty-four Republicans and 12 Democrats voted for adoption, and 12 Republicans and five Democrats, against the bill. The vote was slightly more than two to one for adoption. Many senators were absent from the city or did not vote and it was difficult to forecast, on the basis of the vote cast, whether the bill would be passed in defiance of a presidential veto.

FINDS DECOMPOSED NUDE BODY HANGED AT PITTSBURGH ZOO

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 16.—When Eugene Maganali went to Highland Park to pick mushrooms this morning he found the nude body of a white man hanging to a tree near the zoo. The body was badly decomposed and had been hanging for several months, Maganali ran from the spot as fast as he could travel and did not stop until he reached the police station where he reported his gruesome find.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bailey and son Billy of Altoona returned home after spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lynn.

Little Clara Shade, aged 5 years, suffered a broken arm from a fall this morning.

Hogare Lynn returned to Summitville, Ohio, after spending a few days with his wife, who is a surgical patient at the Clearfield hospital.

N. Y. C. MOVES FOR PEACE; AGREEMENT WILL BE PERMANENT

Plans Now Working Out Means Elimination Of War Time Methods Of National Settlements.

LEE IS OPTIMISTIC

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 16.—General chairmen of the Big Four brotherhoods at a meeting here today were expected to accept the proposal of the Pennsylvania railroad in regard to wages and working conditions.

New York, Sept. 15.—The beginning of the end of all the labor troubles that from time to time have beset the transportation lines of the Nation for the past several years was believed by many railway heads and union chiefs to have come today when the New York Central lines made peaceful settlement with two of the operating brotherhoods, and the Pennsylvania system began negotiations toward similar end. Arrangements for like conferences here next week between brotherhood leaders and six other big eastern carriers were under way tonight.

By today's agreement, the various roads making up the New York Central system agreed to continue for one year, beginning September 30, the present wage scale and working rules for their trainmen and conductors and to withdraw from the United States labor board their request, made more than a year ago, for elimination of time and a half pay for overtime work.

P. R. Report Premature

The New York Central gave out a statement indicating it soon would call into conference the leaders of the engineers and firemen in the hope of amicably coming to terms with them. Tomorrow that system will bring together its officials and leaders of the striking shopmen in the hope of ending the strike that began July 1.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, announced here tonight that at a conference in Pittsburgh today the Pennsylvania had agreed to continue its present wages to all four brotherhoods, but a later dispatch from (Continued on Page Two)

Fourth Ward Still Holds Health Banner With No Communicable Diseases

The usual influx or discovery of contagious diseases that comes to the front each year with the opening of the schools when all the children of the community are called to assemble in their different school rooms resulted in the reporting of nine cases of contagious diseases to the Board of Health, according to Secretary Gaulin's report for the past seven days.

Six of these new cases are for the serious ailment of scarlet fever and diphtheria, while the other three were whooping cough. During the same period three cases were released from quarantine.

There are at present a total of fifteen cases of communicable disease under quarantine in the town. They are located as follows:

- First Ward—Whooping Cough, 3
- Second Ward—Scarlet fever, 3; Diphtheria, 2
- Third Ward—Diphtheria, 3; whooping cough, 3; scarlet fever, 1.

The Fourth Ward continues to remain free from all disease.

SHIPPENSBURG IS WONDERING ABOUT ITS CITIZENSHIP

Shippensburg, Pa., Sept. 15.—(U. P.)—The residents of West Shippensburg are struggling to avoid being a "man without a county."

Shippensburg is in Cumberland County. West Shippensburg is in Franklin County. Under the provisions of an act of May 1915 as amended in May 1921 Shippensburg annexed West Shippensburg so that the latter became a part of the borough. Whereupon the county commissioners of Franklin decided not to furnish the voters of West Shippensburg with ballots for the coming election, on the grounds that as a part of Shippensburg the place must be in Cumberland County.

However, it was decided in court that under the terms of the act West Shippensburg was a part of Shippensburg only for borough purposes and was still part of Franklin County for all county and state purposes.

The one final legal outcome that might bring the fullest secret joy to West Shippensburghers would be the discovery that they need not pay taxes to either county.

CONSIDER THE TOAD

Clearfield Fortunate In Having Great Supply Of One Of Man's Most Useful Servants.

Consider the toad, Clearfield has them by the thousands, but if we appreciate their usefulness, we have none too many.

Your Friend, the Toad

The toad, in his homely, mudbrown coat, has always been an object of aversion, yet he is one of the most useful of the lesser servants of man. There is no truth whatever in the belief that handling the toad causes warts. There is no magic in his cold little body to produce such an effect. He has but one means of defense, a milky, acid fluid that he ejects through his smooth skin when frightened or disturbed. This fluid irritates the mucous membrane and for the reason a dog that attempts to swallow a toad will often show distress. But his worst enemies, owls and snakes, animals that habitually eat the toad, are not annoyed by the secretion.

The toad is a great eater. He consumes in twenty-four hours "an amount of food equal to four times the capacity of his stomach." Of this at least three-fifths consists of insects that are harmful to vegetation. These include cutworms, army worms, house flies and rose-bugs.

Gardeners are gradually learning that it is worth while to keep colonies of toads in their gardens. English gardeners buy them by the hundred. The toad, however, has so strong a homing instinct that unless he is brought from a great distance, he will promptly hop back home when released. The carrier pigeon or fireside cat are not more wedded to their home than he. By raising toads, this difficulty is overcome, for the place where they leave the water as toads is always home to them. There are records of toads having lived in one garden for twenty or thirty years, and in one English garden the same toad resided for thirty-six years.

So, if you find a toad in your garden, do not destroy or molest him. He is not only harmless, but helpful, and if your plants could speak they might tell you of his service to them. Look into his jewel-like mouth, and you will forget the rest of the ugly, dirt-colored body, whose color is the toad's best protection.—Irene S. Woodcock in Our Dumb Animals.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John A. Leigey, 307 North Second St., on Friday September, 15th a fine baby girl, weighing 9 1-2 pounds.

M'SPARRAN THINKS HE WOULD CLEAN UP MESS BETTER

Says Pinchot Could Not Wield Shovel & Broom Because He Is Part Of Mess To Be Cleaned.

AND SO FIGHT IS ON

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 16.—The gubernatorial contest which the candidates are now carrying to the people with many speeches a day throughout the state is one not of differing principles and issues so much as of the personal qualifications of the aspirants, according to the candidates themselves.

The basic grounds on which both are seeking election as Pennsylvania's Governor were given today by Gifford Pinchot and John A. McSparran, standard bearers of the Republican and Democratic parties. With the fall campaign in full swing the two candidates were one in severe condemnation of Pennsylvania's late record and in emphatic demands for reform, but they differed radically as to which one was the better fitted to do the reforming.

"Let in the light and clean up the mess at Harrisburg," said Pinchot, "that is my slogan, as much now as before the primaries, to build up without tearing down, like reconstructing a bridge without stopping traffic. To carry out this program demands a man who has had executive experience and knows how to deal with the situation."

McSparran endorsed the slogan but questioned the willingness of his opponent to use the shovel and the broom. "I believe I can clean up the mess at Harrisburg better than Pinchot," McSparran said, because he is part of the mess."

WATCH YOUR STEP! READ THIS AND PAY NO FINES MONDAY

Local motorists, or many of them violate the traffic law daily through pure carelessness or laziness. The traffic law allows parking of cars along one side of a street and of course that means parking but "one car deep" yet how many times daily do we see lazy or careless automobile drivers who will drive up to the postoffice, bank or other business place and finding a car parked near the curb in front of the place where they wish to transact business will stop their cars, hop out, go into the business place and allow the car to impede traffic until their return. Of course when they leave the car standing in the middle of the street they are only going to be gone a minute, failing to remember that every automobile accident that ever occurred happened in much less than a minute every time.

The police department has been put to a great deal of annoyance trying to break up this dangerous practice, but as telling a driver doesn't appear to have the desired effect they propose to start in Monday next and hale every such offender before the Burgess for a fine.

Now remember this, and when arrested Monday don't say you were not informed of this flagrant violation of the traffic laws with its consequent danger or menace to all travel.

FIND DYNAMITE CACHED NEAR RY. TRESTLE

Mauch Chunk, Pa., Sept. 16.—Fifty one sticks of dynamite and a twenty foot fuse was found secreted near a trestle of the Central Railroad of New Jersey at a lonely spot in the vicinity of Mt. Pisgah Plane by two small boys today. Twenty-four hours earlier two sticks of dynamite were found on a path leading to the local shops of the railroad company. An investigation was started by railroad detectives.

EVERYBODY UP! THREE LONG CHEERS! LOUD ON THE BASS DRUM! JIGGS AND MAGGIE ARE GOING TO TOUR THE WORLD

Everybody up—three long cheers—loud on the bass drums! Jiggs and Maggie are going to tour the world!

Their creator, George McManus, is about to start them on a trip around the globe in this newspaper.

In all the history of American fun making nothing has ever been imagined like this trip of America's two best-known comic characters to all those cities of the old and new hemispheres of which, since their fame has preceded them, they are already citizens by affectionate adoption. For the sun never sets on Jiggs and Maggie. There are newspaper readers, old and young, in China and New Zealand who know them as well as the readers of The Progress.

In starting his celebrated characters on their world journey, McManus is putting into pictures a plan he has entertained these several years, and which will be the product of his own journeys in many lands and among various peoples of the earth. For the father of "Bringing Up Father" is an ardent traveller himself. For a dozen years he has spent a portion of each year on making first-hand acquaintance with the life and people of countries other than his own. The trip of Jiggs and Maggie around the world will be the result, in part, of what he has seen and thought on his world-wide travels.

In following his series day by day, readers of this newspaper will be taken on the Hawaiian Islands and China, to Japan, the Philippines, Korea and Siam, whose King, Rama, is an enthusiastic Jiggs fan, and even sends a letter to McManus, thanking him for making his character so popular. In the press of the affairs of state, Jiggs and Maggie will visit the Taj Mahal in India, the Pyramids and Temples in Egypt, the pyramids at Athens and the forum and colosseum at Rome. They will be present at bull fights in Madrid and old Seville, and try to get into the beach at Biarritz, and will, of course, be well entertained in America on the last leg of their journey, having touched all one's hot spots in Paris and London—first class, of course.

Everybody Up! Three Long Cheers!

land where Jiggs shall have hunted the native corned beef and cabbage to its lair.

Their trip will afford endless play for the unique humor and sparkling philosophy which is invariably of the essence of every McMarus picture. In the adventures and encounters of Jiggs and Maggie all across the world there will occur situation after situation which will be uproariously funny and in which the famous characters will conduct themselves with all their customary drollery and shrewdness and kindness. To journey with Jiggs and Maggie will be to put away your cares and absorb for a few minutes every day the spirit of wholesome fun and happy laughter. Also to take a memorable trip with keen guides and counselors and see the world through the trained eyes of one of the world's sagest wits and satirists.

Bag and baggage, trunks, couriers, golf bags and poodle dogs, the Jiggs household will start on its merry way about October 1. Trail along with the happy travellers, do not miss a moment of the fun. You will be long on the journey but never surfeited with it. You will see the world and be refreshed by it, and you will drink to the fill from the perpetual spring whence flows man's most beneficent tonic—happy laughter.

Following this a British ship opened a bombardment on the Turkish portion of the city and great damage was done by the shells. Fresh details of the affair are coming to light as thousands of refugees are coming here.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—Nearly 250 Americans are destitute in Athens following their flight from Smyrna, the State Department declared in an official communication to the American Red Cross here today. A constant stream of American refugees still is pouring into Greece and they are without resources to sustain themselves. They abandoned all of their property in their hasty flight from the burning city. American Consul Morris, at Salonika, cabled that the Edsel had arrived there with 600 refugees from Smyrna. He advised that there was food enough there to feed several thousand persons, but that clothing, blankets and soap were lacking. The consul said he was furnishing relief from the Near East supplies on American ships there.

CRAMPS, PAINS AND BACKACHE

St. Louis Woman Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered with cramps and pains every month and had to go to bed as I could not work. My mother and my whole family always took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for such troubles and they induced me to try it and it has helped me very much. I don't have cramps any more, and I can do my housework all through the month. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends for female troubles."

Mrs. DELLA SCHOLZ, 1412 Salisbury Street, St. Louis, Mo. Just think for a moment. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been in use for nearly fifty years. It is prepared from medicinal plants, by the utmost pharmaceutical skill, and superior methods. The ingredients are combined in the Compound correct the conditions which cause such annoying symptoms as had been troubling Mrs. Scholz. The Vegetable Compound exercises a restorative influence of the most desirable character, correcting the trouble in a gentle but efficient manner. This is noted, by the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms.

LONGEVITY?

Centenarian Has New Rules: 1-Smoke; 2-Drink; 3-Don't Wed

By NEA SERVICE

New Orleans, Sept. 16.—If you want to live to a ripe old age and be so spry that you can dance a hornpipe when you are a hundred years old, here's a simple recipe:

ONE: Never marry.

TWO: Use all the tobacco you want to.

THREE: Drink plenty of good corn whiskey.

The recipe is furnished by "Uncle Pat" McLaughlin, Confederate veteran of Beauvoir, Miss. He ought to know for he has tried the scheme, is 101 years old and says he can dance a hornpipe as skitish as he could when he was 18.

Of course in these arid days, it may be somewhat difficult to find "plenty of that good corn whiskey" but there are some rumors to the effect that it may be obtained, Andy Volstead to the contrary, notwithstanding. But even Uncle Pat believes Andy is going to be responsible for his untimely demise. Listen to what he says:

I've used liquor all my life and I'm afraid this prohibition amendment is going to cut my life short. The quality of the whiskey I am able to get is getting worse and worse.

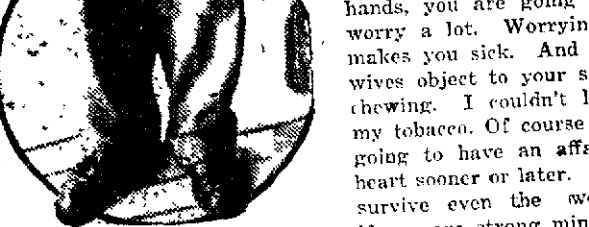

"I would advise anyone against marrying if he wants to live long. When you have a wife on your hands, you are going to have to worry a lot. Worrying is what makes you sick. And again some wives object to your smoking and chewing. I couldn't live without my tobacco. Of course everyone is going to have an affair of the heart sooner or later. But you can survive even the worst attacks if you are strong minded.

"I sparked a lady for about five years. I guess maybe in those young days I would have succumbed but I was always a little bit timid about speaking my own mind and anyhow something kept telling me I'd always be better off single.

"I can read almost as well as I could when I was a boy and I've never worn glasses. I can run 100 yards without getting tired and I've never used a cane.

"You know when I was a boy the women used to wear dresses that covered a large part of them. They were pretty attractive and tempting in those days when they didn't have to carry their blouses around in a vanity bag. Mighty hard to keep from getting tied up then—but now. Look at the short skirts, the lip sticks, the plucked eyebrows and the bobbed hair. I can't see how any would want to get married nowadays to one of those kind of girls. Do they ever catch a husband, young man?"

Uncle Pat fought all through the war and has seldom been ill.

N. Y. C. Moves For Peace

Pittsburg said this announcement was regarded there as premature, since the conferences with trainmen and conductors would continue tomorrow, while those with the engineers and firemen had not yet begun. Brotherhood leaders assembled here said, however, they understood the Pennsylvania would follow the lead of the New York Central.

End of War Time System

Meanwhile negotiations to assure continued peace between conductors and trainmen and the other big roads of the East and West are to be carried on here and in Chicago. Mr. Lee, who hailed today's settlement as the commencement of a clean up of all the troubles that have afflicted the country's rail transportation, said parleys between leaders of the trainmen and conductors and six other Eastern roads would be held here next week and that on Tuesday he and L. E. Sheppard, head of the conductors, expected to begin conferences with the Western group of rail way executives in Chicago. Their conferences at Chicago last June, looking toward agreements covering the future, were broken off when the shopmen decided to strike.

Those in close touch with the situation heralded the agreements today as forecasting the complete smashup of the war born system of settling railroad troubles on a nation-wide basis and the return to the old method of letting each road arrange its own affairs with its own men. Some observers felt that this return to the old ways would soon be put into effect all over the country in individual efforts to settle the shopmen's strike, and that the newer habit of both employer and employee taking their troubles to a national body would be broken once and for all.

"We are trying to get our wage problems and working conditions out of the hands of politicians," Mr. Lee said. "I told that to the President and I'm telling you. The lawyers and politicians just want to make a record, but we fellows have been in this business a long time and we know how to handle it."

"Railway labor never requested the passage of the Adamson eight-hour day law, though a large part of the public thinks so. President Wilson wanted it to avert the railroad strike which certainly would have come several years ago, if it hadn't been for the law. It isn't a real eight hour day law, but is used as a basis for computing overtime. At the time the bill was under consideration I repeatedly asked several United States senators, whom I could name, but won't, to keep their hands off."

Returns to Old Plan

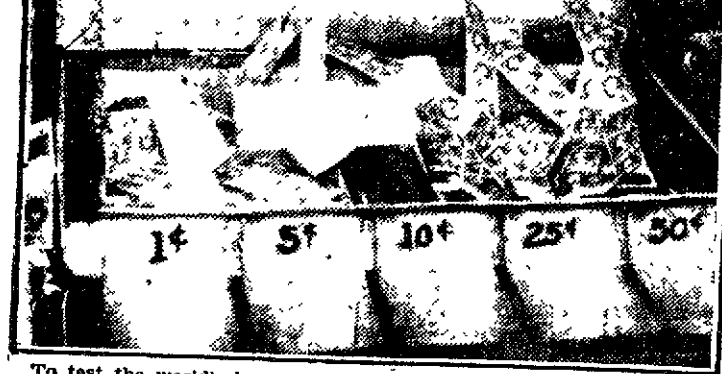

Mr. Smith as head of the various lines making up the New York Central system, hailed the settlement as a "happy augury of a better era in the conduct of the transportation service and as marking 'the return to the former successful practice of adjusting differences in personal negotiation across the conference table.'"

UNDAY MAY SOLVE
ARGONAUT MINE PUZZLESIX MILLION DOLLAR FIRE
AT NEW ORLEANS

Jackson, Cal., Sept. 16.—Rescuers have been laboring for three weeks to pierce the stone wall which separates them from the forty-seven bombed miners in the Argonaut old mine expect to reach their objective by Sunday night. The committee in charge of the operations is altered the course of the work on the original direction taken, believing they will be able to shorten the time of cutting through.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 16.—From three to five lives and $6,000,000 damage is the toll of a fire which started in a box car loaded with burlap near the army warehouse here. The fire swept the Government's 2,000-foot wharf and a two-ton shed. The flames spread so rapid that the firemen were practically helpless.

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Pennsylvania State Game Warden are necessarily men of real nerve who are always willing to take a chance where duty calls them, but W. J. Davis, who looks after infractions of the law in and about Clearfield county, in a little escapade out near Stone Run Camp Tuesday evening last about dusk demonstrated that he has about as much nerve as our good old friend St. Patrick had when he pursued the snakes and drove them all out of Ireland. On the evening mentioned Bill was pursuing his way across the four-mile cut-off in his Ford. The light from the car disclosed to his eagle eye a four-foot rattler stretched across the narrow road. The light startled the rattler and he started a quick glide to get out of the way. He almost succeeded but the front wheel of the Ford passed over the very tip of his tail, neatly crushing off all but three of his string of rattles. Minus the big end of his alarm bells, the rattler disappeared in the bracken at the side of the road.

Now the ordinary mountain road traveler would have been satisfied to let the rattler go his way in peace, but Bill wasn't that way inclined in this instance. He promptly stopped his Ford and, armed with a flashlight in one hand and his trusty six gun in the other, Bill went into the brush in search of the rattler. He didn't have to search long. The rattler hid a grievance and didn't go far as the Ford wheel had pinched his tail, but just as soon as he got into the brush he coiled up ready to battle anything that came along. Bill peered his flashlight thru the foliage ahead of him and was soon rewarded by a swish thru the air and something striking the flashlight lens. He instinctively drew back the arm holding the light and when he saw a pale green liquid slowly diffusing itself over the glass he knew he had found his rattler and cautiously thrusting forward the light again over the spot where the snake had struck he was rewarded by a sight of the peeved rattler with head erect waiting to strike again. One shot at close range ploughed its way thru the rattler's neck and the battle was over.

Bill loaded his kill into his Ford took him over to the Kennedy Park game reserve where Keeper Reardon asked him in taking the hide off the reptile, which he is going to have tanned and made into a belt as a memento of the night-hunt for a rattler.

Did you ever hunt rattlesnakes at night with a flashlight? It's a rare sport, we don't think.

The regular September terms of Criminal Court opens on Monday next with the unprecedented number of 206 cases on the list for trial. If the world is getting better you can't prove it by the Clearfield County Quarter Sessions Court records.

Of the 206 cases listed for trial the coming two weeks, 75 were held over or continued from May term, the remaining 131 being new cases in which the prosecutions were brought since May criminal court. Of the total cases on the list 49 are for violation of the liquor law, while 49 more are what is styled by Court House attaches as "Andy and Henry" cases or crimes against morality. Of the others motor law violations head the list with 18 cases.

The Reynoldsville Star in speaking of the Lakes to the Sea Highway, which will be finally completed next year, says that the Lakes-to-the-Sea Highway is one hundred years old this year. Not the Lakes-to-the-Sea that is to be, but the old trail from the Susquehanna river to Waterford in Erie county. It was in 1817 that the State Legislature authorized the construction of the pike, and it was in 1822 that it was completed. Wagons commenced to roll over it, herds of cattle and sheep were plentiful and it meant to the thinly settled region of that period all that the new concrete road will mean to the thickly populated farming and industrial section of today.

This was not the first road through this section, but it was the first well kept road, and that its course was the logical one is proven by the fact that in the hundred years since there have been very few deviations from its general course, and even now, when the State is constructing prominent roads and seeking always the best route regardless of usage, the locations in nearly every case have been merely to avoid exceptional hills or sharp curves.

The road is one of the few great natural routes for traffic in Pennsylvania. It was an Indian trail first, the pioneers chopped their way through the wilderness over it later, and in good time it will be the most heavily traveled road in America.

The Lakes to the Sea Highway between the points mentioned in the above article is a part of the old Philadelphia to Erie pike. This old time avenue or travel left the present concrete highway at Hogback just this side of the Curwensville borough line, crossed the river at Bloom's bridge and continued diagonally across the State to Philadelphia, again striking the present route at Blue Ball, near Philipsburg.

Pennsylvania Game Warden are to be informed concerning the exact times of sunrise and sunsets. Under the provisions of the game code hunting must be done in the daytime and questions have been raised as to men charged with law violation have been within the limits.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Mrs. Helen Bottorf, of State College, is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Twigg, Sr., on Bloomington avenue. The Bottorf family were former residents of Curwensville, and before his demise Mr. Bottorf was Pennsylvania station agent here for some years.

Mrs. Harry Rhodes, George street, met with quite a severe accident at her home Thursday. She was engaged in canning some fruit in glass jars, and in tightening a lid the jar broke, a piece of glass entered one of her hands and cut a long, deep gash necessitating eight or nine stitches to close it.

Three young men were up before "Squire" Date Thursday evening charged with malicious mischief and destruction of property at Irvin Park. Two of the defendants were found guilty and assessed with fine of $3 and costs. Against the third there was not sufficient evidence and he was discharged.

A number of ladies took time by the forelock, and those who had babies took them also, and went out to Greenwood hunting lodge Thursday evening and spent several hours in social enjoyment. Under the spell of Bill Peoples' fiddle, a good, old-fashioned square dance was indulged in by nearly all present.

A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Joshua Earl Sipes Post, American Legion, will be held in the Legion's rooms, South Liberty street, at which time Mrs. C. S. Russell, who represented that body at the Williamsport convention, will make her report.

One of the National delegates to the New Orleans convention and also made a member of the resolutions committee.

Rev. J. C. Collins and S. C. Watts attended a session of the Erie Methodist conference held in DuBois Thursday. Returning home that night and coming down Anderson Creek hill something went wrong with the auto and started to behave in a manner unbecoming to a well-regulated Ford. Rev. Collins jumped out and sustained a rip in his Sunday-go-to-meeting trousers as well as a few leg bruises. Watts stayed with the beast a few minutes longer than Collins when he jumped and left the machine to its own devices. It headed for the bank and took a leap over into the brush, skidding about forty feet down the hill. Marvelous, yet the accident did not put out the glimmers or even stop the engine. They left the machine where it landed and hoofed it back to town, thankful that they escaped without receiving serious injury.

Do not forget the Harvest Home services in the M. E. church Sunday morning. Neither neglect to bring along some "fruit of vegetables" for the Old Ladies' Supper at 7 p.m.

Adam Way, a life-long resident and farmer of Pike township, was reported yesterday morning as being quite ill at his home.

Mrs. Annie B. Clark, wife of Creighton Clark, passed away at her home in Pike township, near this place at 4:30 o'clock Friday morning. She suffered a stroke of apoplexy and did not have the vitality to overcome it. She was a daughter of Reuben and Charlotte Hall and was born and reared in Pike township, in the section that is known as the "Bailey settlement." Her age was 55 years, 6 months and a few days. In 1886 she was united in marriage to Creighton Clark, the ceremony being performed at Clearfield. The children of the family consisted of John, Jesse, James, Joseph, Genevieve, Josephine and Alice, all of whom survive her excepting James, who died in infancy, and John, who died in 1918. Her funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, a pastor of the Christian church officiating. Her remains will be interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

R. V. Diehl, a collector for the Prudential, was unfortunate Wednesday in losing a pocketbook containing $85 or $90. Friday the book was found quite a distance away from where it was dropped, but nary a cent was therein.

Wray Ross and L. F. Mohney, of

DuBois, were business visitors to Curwensville yesterday. The latter is one of the editors of the Morning Courier. Ross at one time was one of the most expert telegraph operators in the United States, and has worked in all of the large newspaper offices, taking press notes as a specialty. He was at one time Gen. Atter's private telegrapher and officer had command of the western division of the army, in the early '90s.

Miss Belle Reed, who spent several years in Japan with her sister, Dr. Reed, spent several days in Curwensville this week visiting with friends. Thursday evening she gave a very interesting and instructive talk before the missionary society of the Presbyterian church. The people who composed her audience now have a far better conception of the missionary work being done in Japan than ever before.

WOODLAND

Mrs. William Livingstone and children have returned from a two-weeks visit with her sister at Karthaus.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed and children of Clearfield spent Sunday at the home of Ed Livergood.

Fred Herbert, Sr., and family visited relatives at Philipsburg and Munson Sunday.

Mr. Charles Davis and baby of Clearfield spent Saturday at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers.

An eight and one-half pound girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Casher on Friday morning, Sept. 8th. Both mother and babe are doing nicely.

Mrs. John Mohney of Clearfield visited on Wednesday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Peters.

J. M. Baker was on a business trip to Huntingdon this week.

Mrs. Dorsey Baird and Mrs. Reed Barger were Clearfield shoppers on Thursday.

About fifty young people held a weiner roast and lawn party at the home of Reed Barger on Thursday evening and all had the time of their lives, so to speak.

Rolly McDowell, who for a number of years has lived on the Pearce farm about two miles out of our town, has purchased the J. N. Palmer property on Main street and will shortly move into it. Mr. Wheeling, who now lives in the Palmer house, will occupy the Mrs. Alex Dugan property recently vacated by G. M. Leach, who moved to Pittsburg.

To Prevent Dampness. In damp weather always place a small wooden box filled with lime in the storeroom. This keeps the air dry and sweet, as the lime absorbs all the dampness.

Inbreeding of Spots. In an experiment with 600 white rats belonging to the sixteenth to the twenty-fifth generations of brothers and sisters from the same litter, it was found that close inbreeding produced no deterioration.

Noticeable Resemblance. "Isn't that a Bouguereau?" asked Mrs. Oldcastle as they stopped for a moment to look at the new pictures. "Oh, my no," replied her hostess; "it's a lion." But I told Josiah when he brought it home that it looked a good deal more like one of them things you mention."

TALL GIRLS BACK IN FASHION

At a famous trial in this city, while William Travers Jerome was district attorney, the prosecutor asked a witness for her impression as to the age of a woman whose name had been brought into the proceedings.

"Well," the other replied, "she was quite young. Her skirt did not come to her shoe tops."

The test would not have meant anything for some years past. But an order has gone forth, and the statuesque woman has come into her own again. She is able once more to make the most of the inches that Providence has given her. Slimness and graceful lines are the most desired of all natural endowments.

As if overnight, the avenue is blossoming with "daughters of the gods" divinely tall and most divinely fair. The change is to the advantage of the majority. The big girls look very big, and even the medium ones look bigger than they were.

The short skirt was all right for the flapper type. It was difficult for those in whose case mystery was advantageous.—New York Telegram.

DEMAND PERSONAL EVIDENCE IN DAUGHERTY CASE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—The American Federation of Labor will take a hand in the impeachment proceedings brought against Attorney General Daugherty in the House. It was announced today when the Judicial Committee met to consider the Keller impeachment resolution. Representative Keller appeared before the committee but he presented no evidence and it was decided until next Tuesday. The committee refused Keller the right to summon witnesses, and declared he must present personal evidence to support his charges before the committee will consent to delve into the case.

WANTED: LADY CASHIER

EFFICIENT "DRY" ENFORCER MOVED TO JOHNSTOWN, PA.

Punxsutawney, Sept. 16.—W. J. Martsoff, head of prohibition agents in the Punxsutawney district, with W. A. Kelton, his efficient assistant, and the entire group of enforcement officers assigned to this district left this morning for Johnstown, Pa., where they will operate in the future.

O. R. Stiffler, who has just been re-instated as group head in the Johnstown district, arrived here this afternoon with his dry agents and will work out of this city in the district of which Punxsutawney is headquarters.

While residents of this district know very little or nothing concerning the efficiency of Mr. Stiffler and his force, they feel they have been done an injustice through the transfer of Messrs. Martsoff and Kelton and their efficient aides.

Efficient Worker.

Mr. Martsoff organized his forces here in June of this year and during the three months' operation in this district 126 raids have been conducted. The vast majority of the worst "hothole" in the district have been wiped out of existence. They had their work in the district outlined for many weeks to come and were in position to reach their maximum efficiency in this district. Citizens of this section feel that their transfer under such conditions is inadvisable and it is probable that a concerted effort to secure their return will be made.

At the present time, they have many cases pending in Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, Center and Clarion counties and it will be necessary to close the Johnstown office at frequent intervals so they may appear in the various courts in this district to testify in the cases where they were responsible for arrests made.

Martsoff and his agents will doubt less be "good medicine" for the district of which Johnstown is the headquarters. They pursued their duties here relentlessly, without fear or favor and it is a safe bet that right at the present moment, District No. 8, of which Punxsutawney is headquarters, is the driest district in the entire State. To have the men responsible for this condition transferred right in the midst of their activities is far from gratifying to residents of this district.

LOCAL BOY DROWNED AT PITTSBURG

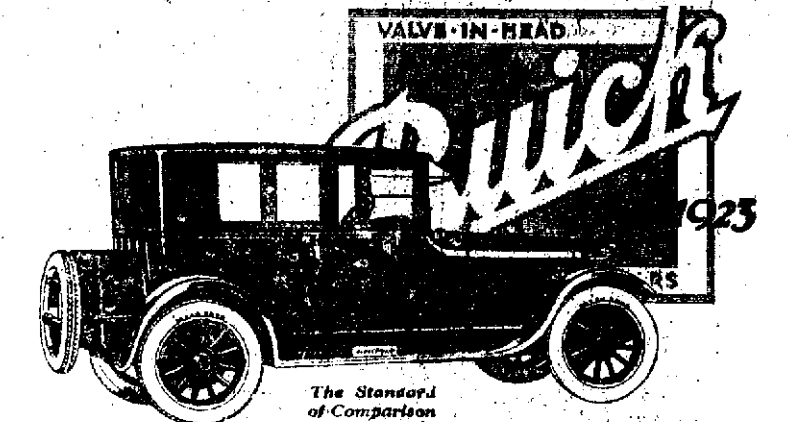

The remains of Roscoe Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Clark, of Clearfield, who was drowned in the Allegheny river at Pittsburgh, were brought home yesterday and the funeral services will be held at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Ardary, 208 Pine street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Captain Watson of the Salvation Army will officiate.

The deceased, who was employed on a boat on the river, deciding to take a swim Thursday of last week, undressed on the deck of the boat and plunged into the river. No other person was present at the time and nothing is known as to the circumstances surrounding the occurrence, but when he did not show up when the boat was ready to leave, a search was made and the young man's clothes were found where he had left them and the facts of his disappearance and supposed drowning were reported to the authorities.

On Monday last the body of the young man was found in the river near where he had been drowned and was identified following an inquiry by the Allegheny county coroner, and notice sent to his parents and family here.

Great City's Sewage.

Every 24 hours there is poured into the Harlem river 99,000,000 gallons of New York city's sewage; into the North river 132,000,000 gallons and into the East river 264,000,000 gallons.

Perfect Comfort on the Longest Tour

The 1923 Buick Six Touring Sedan—$1935

For touring to the "Big Game" this fall, driving on the boulevard, or slipping along a country road in the busy season of Indian Summer, this smart new Buick six cylinder touring sedan offers a degree of comfort that cannot be surpassed.

Long and low in appearance, it affords perfect riding ease and comfort for five passengers. Its well-knit chassis, new cantilever springs and strong frame take up the jabs and jolts of the country road.

Broad plate glass windows give a wide vision to all occupants, while protecting them from chilling winds. Added warmth is provided by a heater. The interior of the Fisher built body is furnished in handsome plush with individual seats in front. Driving convenience is assured by a longest steering column at a lower angle, complete instrument panel and longer gear shift lever.

The Buick line for 1923 comprises fourteen models: Four—2 Pass. Roadster, $865; 5 Pass. Touring, $885; 3 Pass. Coupe, $1175; 2 Pass. Sedan, $1285; 5 Pass. Touring Sedan, $1325; Six—3 Pass. Roadster, $1175; 5 Pass. Touring, $1195; 5 Pass. Touring Sedan, $1235; 5 Pass. Sedan, $1285; 4 Pass. Coupe, $1465; 2 Pass. Touring, $1485; 7 Pass. Sedan, $2195; Sport Roadster, $1625; Sport Touring, $1675. Prices 7 to 10. Buick's financing. Ask about the G. M. A. C. Purchase Plan, which provides for deferred payments.

TWO ENJOYABLE OCCASIONS

On Thursday evening Class No. 1 of the Lutheran Sunday school held their regular monthly meeting in the basement of the church. They had as their guests, the members of the choir, Sister Laura E. Gilliland and the pastor and family. After enjoying the games of the evening, all sat down to a bounteous repast, served as these young ladies can. All enjoyed the evening and at a late hour wended their way homeward glad they were so young and happy.

On Friday evening classes 4 and 11 motored out to Harry Schucker's, where they enjoyed a weiner and corn roast. Besides weiners and corn there were marshmallows, grapes, apples, fresh cider and buns. There were nearly a hundred present to enjoy the fun. The evening was spent in playing games, eating and smashing straw hats. The Fullington Bors, furnished two jitneys to help convey the crowd out and back. These with a number of automobiles furnished accommodations for all. All felt very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Schucker for the invitation as well as the good things to eat and the good time they enjoyed. It was good to be there.

But It's a Wrong Conclusion.

The evil things, the "materialistic" things, the negative destructive things, always make so much more noise than the forces of harmony and beauty, that the average individual may be forgiven if he concludes that there is nothing but turmoil and discord and without purpose, in the world.—Herbert H. Hughes.

Here is Huxley's Purpose.

To smile, all humbugs, however big; to give a nobler tone to science; to set an example of abstinence from petty personal controversies and of toleration for everything but lying; to be indifferent as to whether the work is recognized as mine or not, so long as it is done—are these my aims? 1800 will show.—From T. H. Huxley's Diary.

JERSEY EPISCOPAL PASTOR AND WOMAN ARE FOUND SLAIN

New Brunswick, N. J. Sept. 16.—The bodies of Rev. Edward Hall, Rector of the Protestant Episcopal church of St. John the Divine here, and an unidentified young woman were found today under a tree on a farm near here the police announced. Both had been shot to death.

The bodies of Rev. Hall and the woman, who was well dressed, were lying on their backs. A straw hat covered the clergyman's face and a veil was over the woman's. Hall had been shot in the forehead and the woman in the breast.

Two children discovered the bodies and reported to the police who estimated that the victims had been dead for at least forty-eight hours. No weapon was found and the bodies were not moved pending an investigation by the authorities. Papers were spread about the bodies in confusion which led the police to believe that Hall's body had been searched.

Hall had a wife and three children. He had been missing since Thursday. Several of the papers found near the bodies were letters addressed to Hall in a woman's hand.

FORD FACTORIES ALL CLOSED DOWN; OFFICIALS SILENT

Detroit, Sept. 15.—Henry Ford late today took steps to close his auto plant tonight thereby throwing 100,000 workmen out of employment for an indefinite period. No official word from Mr. Ford or his executives was forthcoming late today, beyond the statement that the management's announcement of two weeks ago that he would close Sept. 16 would stand unless he altered it. Simultaneously it was announced that the small companies that supplied materials for the Ford plant will go also. The companies employ upwards of 200,000, the Ford works approximately 70,000.

About 20,000 men will be kept at work at the plant firing the coke ovens. To permit these ovens to grow cold would ruin them Mr. Ford said in his earlier statement.

25,000 Ford employees scattered on side of the city will be affected by the closing order Mr. Ford said in announcing the contemplated shut down. Mr. Ford said: "In addition there will be many others at that time who will lay down their tools or work but part time. These are workers depending on the Ford company for business. Those directly or indirectly affected are estimated by Ford officials at between several hundred thousand. The estimate was made several weeks ago when the manufacturer made his first announcement.

EVERYBODY UP! THREE LONG CHEERS! LOUD ON THE BASS DRUM! JIGGS AND MAGGIE ARE GOING TO TOUR THE WORLD

Everybody up—three long cheers—loud on the bass drums!

Jiggs and Maggie are going to tour the world!

Their creator, George McManus, is about to start them on a trip around the globe in this newspaper.

In all the history of American fun making nothing has ever been imagined like this trip of America's two best known comic characters to all those cities of the old and new hemispheres of which, since their fame has preceded them there, they are already citizens by affectionate adoption. For the sun never sets on Jiggs and Maggie. There are newspaper readers, old and young, in China and New Zealand who know them as well as the readers of The Progress.

In starting his celebrated characters on their world journey, McManus is putting into pictures a plan he has entertained these several years and which will be the product of his own journeys in many lands and among various peoples of the earth. For the father of "Bringing Up Father" is an ardent traveller himself. For a dozen years he has spent a portion of each

HERO OF KUT EL AMARA DECLARES ALLIES MUST SURRENDER CONSTANTINOPLE OR PRECIPITATE A MOSLEM HOLY WAR

London, England, Sept. 16.—Great Britain has invited Greece, Roumania and Serbia to participate in the defence of the neutral zone around the Dardanelles menaced by the Turks. This followed despatch of a joint note by Great Britain, France and Italy warning Mustapha Kemal not to attempt invasion of the neutral zone.

Paris, France, Sept. 16. The Allies must surrender Constantinople or precipitate a holy war which would menace the existence of the British Empire, General Townsend, hero of Kut el Amara, declared here today.

"We had better make peace with Mustapha Kemal while we can," he warned. General Townsend and Kemal had outlined his terms to him and that he had forwarded them to Lloyd George. They included independence for territories where Turkish population is in the majority. General Townsend was in command of the British Mesopotamian army during the great war and surrendered only after bitter resistance lasting for months.

Athens, Greece, Sept. 16.—British reinforcements were landed at Constantinople today while Turkish cavalry rode to within a few miles of the city. Four British cruisers and eight destroyers conveyed the troops to the Turkish capital, which Mustapha Kemal, leader of the nationalist forces, threatens to seize from the Allies. Two regiments and an airplane squadron comprised the reinforcements landed at the city.

Constantinople, Sept. 16.—Uprisings of Moslems here simultaneous with an attack by the Turkish nationalist forces is under trial to have been decided upon by leaders of the Mohammedans. The Allies are making preparations to suppress such an attack. Mr. Sates of the whites in Constantinople probably would cause if the troops here were overpowered. Mustapha Kemal cavalry were reported only a few miles from the city, evidently reconnoitering. The main army has extended its left wing also to within a short distance of the city. The Allies are rushing troops to the scene and one unconfirmed report stated that twenty-five British transports carrying British troops are en route here.

Athens, Sept. 16.—Unconfirmed estimates from Armenian sources today were that 70,000 Christians were massacred in Smyrna and 50,000 elsewhere by the Turks in their recent hostilities. Refugees along the Smyrna quay are estimated at 500,000. A detachment of Allied marines attempted to land at Smyrna but were kept from so doing by Kemal forces massed on the docks. (Continued on Page Two) year in making first hand acquaintance with the life and people of countries other than his own. The trip of Jiggs and Maggie around the world will be the real thing, in part, of what he has seen and thought on his world wide travels.

In following his series day by day reader of this newspaper will be taken to the Hawaiian Islands and China, to Japan, the Philippines, Korea and Siam, whose King, Rama, is an enthusiastic Jiggs fan and once fondly sends a letter to McManus thanking him for comic relief and moment of relaxation afforded by the cartoon in the press of the affairs of state. Jiggs and Maggie will go to P. O. Box 100 in India, the Philippines and to Egypt, the capitals at Athens and the forum and colosseum at Rome. They will be present at bull fights in Madrid and old Sevilla, and then look at Mont Carlo, and visit on the beaches at Cannes, Opatowitz and Duesseldorf and will embark for America on the last day of the journey. Having touched all the high spots in Paris and London—first class hotels and first

TURKISH TERMS OF PEACE MADE PUBLIC TODAY

Paris, France, Sept. 16.—The Turkish armistice terms were made public today in a despatch from their leaders. They are:

1. Greece to withdraw its armies from the territory claimed by the Turks.
2. Greece must recognize Turkish sovereignty in Asia Minor.
3. All parties named by the Turks as guilty of atrocities must be surrendered by the Greeks.

BONUS BILL GOES TO PRESIDENT FOR EXECUTIVE ACTION

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—The soldier bonus bill will be sent to President Harding today for his approval or veto. It is generally expected that the President will veto the bill. Bonus supporters today were doing their utmost to secure enough votes to override a Presidential veto in case the President should take that course.

Washington, Sept. 15.—The Senate adopted the conference report on the soldier bonus bill late today by a vote of 36 to 17 and it will go to President Harding tomorrow as the House formerly had taken favorable action. During debate on a parliamentary question. Chairman McCumber of the Finance Committee, said that while he had no direct information from the White House, he had heard that the President would sign the bill in its present form. This, however, did not square with the opinions of most of the other senators, who seemed convinced that the President would veto the bill.

Senator McCumber, when questioned about the authority for his statement by Senator Harrison (Dem) of Mississippi, was forced to admit that he could give no assurances and that the situation was "up in the air." He added that there were enough senators "who at heart want to help the soldiers," to override a veto if they would remain to cast their votes and he urged them to do so.

Vote Two to One

Twenty-four Republicans and 12 Democrats voted for adoption, and 12 Republicans and five Democrats, against the bill. The vote was slightly more than two to one for adoption. Many senators were absent from the city or did not vote and it was difficult to forecast, on the basis of the vote cast, whether the bill would be passed in defiance of a presidential veto.

FINDS DECOMPOSED NUDE BODY HANGED AT PITTSBURGH ZOO

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 16.—When Eugene Maganali went to Highland Park to pick mushrooms this morning he found the nude body of a white man hanging to a tree near the zoo. The body was badly decomposed and had been hanging for several months. Maganali ran from the spot as fast as he could travel and did not stop until he reached the police station where he reported his gruesome find.

N. Y. C. MOVES FOR PEACE, AGREEMENT WILL BE PERMANENT

Plans Now Working Out Means Elimination Of War Time Methods Of National Settlements.

LEE IS OPTIMISTIC

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 16.—General chairmen of the Big Four brotherhoods at a meeting here today were expected to accept the proposal of the Pennsylvania railroad in regard to wages and working conditions.

New York, Sept. 15.—The beginning of the end of all the labor troubles that, from time to time have beset the transportation lines of the Nation for the past several years was believed by many railway heads and union chiefs to have come today when the New York Central lines made peaceful settlement with two of the operating brotherhoods, and the Pennsylvania system began negotiations toward similar end. Arrangements for like conferences here next week between brotherhood leaders and six other big eastern carriers were under way tonight.

By today's agreement, the various roads making up the New York Central system agreed to continue for one year, beginning September 30, the present wage scale and working rules for their trainmen and conductors and to withdraw from the United States labor board their request, made more than a year ago, for elimination of time and a half pay for overtime work.

P. R. R. Report Premature

The New York Central gave out a statement indicating it soon would call into conference the leaders of the engineers and firemen in the hope of amicably coming to terms with them. Tomorrow that system will bring together its officials and leaders of the striking shopmen in the hope of ending the strike that began July 1.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, announced here tonight that at a conference in Pittsburgh today the Pennsylvania had agreed to continue its present wages to all four brotherhoods, but a later dispatch from (Continued on Page Two)

Fourth Ward Still Holds Health Banner With No Communicable Diseases

The usual influx or discovery of contagious diseases that comes to the front each year with the opening of the schools when all the children of the community are called to assemble in their different school rooms resulted in the reporting of nine cases of contagious diseases to the Board of Health, according to Secretary Gaultin's report for the past seven days.

Six of these new cases are for the serious ailment of scarlet fever and diphtheria, while the other three were whooping cough. During the same period three cases were released from quarantine.

There are at present a total of fifteen cases of communicable disease under quarantine in the town. They are located as follows:

- First Ward—Whooping Cough, 3
- Second Ward—Scarlet fever, 3; Diphtheria, 2.
- Third Ward—Diphtheria, 3; whooping cough, 3; scarlet fever, 1.
- The Fourth Ward continues to remain free from all disease.

SHIPPENSBURG IS WONDERING ABOUT ITS CITIZENSHIP

Shippensburg, Pa., Sept. 15.—(U. P.)—The residents of West Shippensburg are struggling to avoid being a "man without a county."

Shippensburg is in Cumberland County. West Shippensburg is in Franklin County. Under the provisions of an act of May 1915 as amended in May 1921 Shippensburg annexed West Shippensburg so that the latter became a part of the borough. Whereupon the county commissioners of Franklin decided not to furnish the voters of West Shippensburg with ballots for the coming election, on the grounds that as a part of Shippensburg the place must be in Cumberland County.

However, it was decided in court that under the terms of the act West Shippensburg was a part of Shippensburg only for borough purposes and was still part of Franklin County for all county and state purposes.

The one final legal outcome that might bring the fullest secret joy to West Shippensburghers would be the discovery that they need not pay taxes to either county.

CONSIDER THE TOAD

Clearfield Fortunate In Having Great Supply Of One Of Man's Most Useful Servants.

Consider the toad. Clearfield has them by the thousands, but if we appreciate their usefulness, we have none too many.

Your Friend, the Toad

The toad, in his homely, muddbrown coat, has always been an object of aversion, yet he is one of the most useful of the lesser servants of man. There is no truth whatever in the belief that handling the toad causes waris. There is no magic in his cold little body to produce such an effect. He has but one means of defense, a milky, acid fluid that he ejects thru his smooth skin when frightened or disturbed. This fluid irritates the mucous membrane and for the reason a dog that attempts to eat a toad will often show distress. But his worst enemies, owls and snakes, animals that habitually eat the toad, are not annoyed by the secretion.

The toad is a great eater. He consumes in twenty-four hours an amount of food equal to four times the capacity of his stomach. Of this at least three-fifths consists of insects that are harmful to vegetation. These include cutworms, army worms, house flies and rose-bugs.

Gardeners are gradually learning that it is worth while to keep colonies of toads in their gardens. English gardeners buy them by the hundred. The toad, however, has so strong a homing instinct that unless he is brought from a great distance, he will promptly hop back home when released. The carrier pigeon or fireside cat are not more wedded to their home than he. By raising toads, this difficulty is overcome, for the place where they leave the water as toads is always home to them. There are records of toads having lived in one garden for twenty or thirty years, and in one English garden the same toad resided for thirty-six years.

So, if you find a toad in your garden, do not destroy or molest him. He is not only harmless, but helpful, and if your plants could speak they might tell you of his service to them. Look into his jewel-like mouth, and you will forget the rest of the ugly, dirt-colored body, whose color is the toad's best protection.—Irene S. Woodcock in Our Dumb Animals.

M'SPARRAN THINKS HE WOULD CLEAN UP MESS BETTER

Says Pinchot Could Not Wield Shovel & Broom Because He Is Part Of Mess To Be Cleaned.

AND SO FIGHT IS ON

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 16.—The gubernatorial contest which the candidates are now carrying to the people with many speeches a day throughout the state is one not of differing principles and issues so much as of the personal qualifications of the aspirants, according to the candidates themselves.

The basic grounds on which both are seeking election as Pennsylvania's Governor were given today by Gifford Pinchot and John A. McSparran, standard bearers of the Republican and Democratic parties. With the fall campaign in full swing the two candidates were one in severe condemnation of Pennsylvania's late record and in emphatic demands for reform, but they differed radically as to which one was the better fitted to do the reforming.

"Let in the light and clean up the mess at Harrisburg," said Pinchot, "that is my slogan, as much now as before the primaries, to build up without tearing down, like reconstructing a bridge without stopping traffic. To carry out this program demands a man who has had executive experience and knows how to deal with the situation."

McSparran endorsed the slogan but questioned the willingness of his opponent to use the shovel and the broom. "I believe I can clean up the mess at Harrisburg better than Pinchot," McSparran said, because he is part of the mess."

WATCH YOUR STEP! READ THIS AND PAY NO FINES MONDAY

Local motorists, or many of them violate the traffic law daily through pure carelessness or laziness. The traffic law allows parking of cars along one side of a street and of course that means parking but "one car deep" yet how many times daily do we see lazy or careless automobile drivers who will drive up to the postoffice, bank or other business place and finding a car parked near the curb in front of the place where they wish to transact business will stop their cars, hop out, go into the business place and allow the car to impede traffic until their return!

Of course when they leave the car standing in the middle of the street they are only going to be gone a minute, failing to remember that every automobile accident that ever occurred happened in much less than a minute every time.

The police department has been put to a great deal of annoyance trying to break up this dangerous practice, but as telling a driver doesn't appear to have the desired effect they propose to start in Monday next and hale every such offender before the Burgess for a fine.

Now remember this, and when arrested Monday don't say you were not informed of this flagrant violation of the traffic laws with its consequent danger or menace to all travel.

FIND DYNAMITE CACHED NEAR RY. TRESTLE

Mauch Chunk, Pa., Sept. 16.—Fifty one sticks of dynamite and a twenty foot fuse was found secreted near a trestle of the Central Railroad of New Jersey at a lonely spot in the vicinity of Mt. Pisgah Plane by two small boys today. Twenty-four hours earlier two sticks of dynamite were found on a path leading to the local shops of the railroad company. An investigation was started by railroad detectives.

Following this a British ship opened a bombardment on the Turkish portion of the city and great damage was done by the shells. Fresh details of the affair are coming to light as thousands of refugees are coming here.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—Nearly 250 Americans are destitute in Athens following their flight from Smyrna, the State Department declared in an official communication to the American Red Cross here today. A constant stream of American refugees still is pouring into Greece and they are without resources to sustain themselves. They abandoned all of their property in their hasty flight from the burning city. American Consul Morris, at Salonika, cabled that the Edsel had arrived there with 600 refugees from Smyrna. He advised that there was food enough there to feed several thousand persons, but that clothing, blankets and soap were lacking. The consul said he was furnishing relief from the Near East supplies on American ships there.

Athens, Greece, Sept. 16.—Intense reports from Smyrna are that thousands of lives were lost in the massacre and conflagration. At least 2,500 are dead and many have been incinerated in the holocaust. The harbor of Smyrna is filled with floating corpses. Nine hundred old men, women and children were hidden in a building which was fired by the Turks. As the occupants rushed out of the building they were murdered indiscriminately by the Turks, whom their officers were unable to hold in check. The burning of Smyrna was described as one of the greatest fires in the history of the world. The American college was burned and it is believed that the girls who were attending the college were taken captives by the Turks.

CRAMPS, PAINS AND BACKACHE

St. Louis Woman Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered with cramps and pains every month and had to go to bed as I could not work. My mother and my whole family always took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for such troubles and they induced me to try it and it has helped me very much. I don't have cramps any more, and I can do my housework all through the month. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends for female troubles."

Mrs. DELLA SCHULTZ, 1412 Salisbury Street, St. Louis, Mo. Just think for a moment. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been in use for nearly fifty years. It is prepared from medicinal plants, by the utmost pharmaceutical skill, and superior methods. The ingredients thus combined in the Compound correct the conditions which cause such annoying symptoms as had been troubling Mrs. Schultz. The Vegetable Compound exercises a restorative influence of the most desirable character, correcting the trouble in a gentle but efficient manner. This is noted by the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms.

Centenarian Has New Rules: 1-Smoke; 2-Drink; 3-Don't Wed

By NEA SERVICE

New Orleans, Sept. 16.—If you want to live to a ripe old age and be so spry that you can dance a hornpipe when you are a hundred years old, here's a simple recipe:

"UNCLE PAT."

little bit timid about speaking my own mind and anyhow something kept telling me I'd always be better off single.

"I can read almost as well as I could when I was a boy and I've never worn glasses. I can run 100 yards without getting tired and I've never used a cane.

"You know when I was a boy the women used to wear dresses that covered a large part of them. They were pretty attractive and tempting in those days when they didn't have to carry their blouses around in a vanity bag. Mighty hard to keep from getting tied up then—but now. Look at the short skirts, the lip sticks, the plucked eyebrows and the bobbed hair. I can't see how any would want to get married nowadays to one of those kind of girls. Do they ever catch a husband, young man?"

Uncle Pat fought all through the war and has seldom been ill.

ONE: Never marry.

TWO: Use all the tobacco you want to.

THREE: Drink plenty of good corn whiskey.

The recipe is furnished by "Uncle Pat" McLaughlin, Confederate veteran of Beauvoir, Miss. He ought to know for he has tried the scheme, is 101 years old and says he can dance a hornpipe as skitish as he could when he was 18.

Of course in these arid days, it may be somewhat difficult to find "plenty of that good corn whiskey" but there are some rumors to the effect that it may be obtained. Andy Volstead to the contrary, notwithstanding. But even Uncle Pat believes Andy is going to be responsible for his untimely demise. Listen to what he says:

I've used liquor all my life and I'm afraid this prohibition amendment is going to cut my life short. The quality of the whiskey I am able to get is getting worse and worse.

"I would advise anyone against marrying if he wants to live long. When you have a wife on your hands, you are going to have to worry a lot. Worrying is what makes you sick. And again some wives object to your smoking and chewing. I couldn't live without my tobacco. Of course everyone is going to have an affair of the heart sooner or later. But you can survive even the worst attacks if you are strong minded.

"I sparked a lady for about five years. I guess maybe in those young days I would have succumbed but I was always a

Pittsburg said this announcement was regarded there as premature, since the conferences with trainmen and conductors would continue tomorrow, while those with the engineers and firemen had not yet begun. Brotherhood leaders assembled here said, however, they understood the Pennsylvania would follow the lead of the New York Central.

End of War Time System

Meanwhile negotiations to assure continued peace between conductors and trainmen and the other big roads of the East and West are to be carried on here and in Chicago. Mr. Lee, who hailed today's settlement as the commencement of a clean up of all the troubles that have afflicted the country's rail transportation, said parleys between leaders of the trainmen and conductors and six other Eastern roads would be held here next week and that on Tuesday he and L. E. Sheppard, head of the conductors, expected to begin conferences with the Western group of rail way executives in Chicago. Their conferences at Chicago last June, looking toward agreements covering the future, were broken off when the shopmen decided to strike.

These in close touch with the situation heralded the agreements today as forecasting the complete smashup of the war born system of setting railroad troubles on a nation-wide basis and the return to the old method of letting each road arrange its own affairs with its own men. Some observers felt that this return to the old ways would soon be put into effect all over the country in individual efforts to settle the shopmen's strike, and that the never habit of both employer and employee taking their troubles to a national body would be broken once and for all.

"We are trying to get our wage problems and working conditions out of the hands of politicians," Mr. Lee said, "I told that to the President and I'm telling you. The lawyers and politicians just want to make a record, but we fellows have been in this business a long time and we know how to handle it.

"Railway labor never requested the passage of the Adamson eight-hour day law, though a large part of the public thinks so. President Wilson wanted it to avert the railroad strike which certainly would have come

POPULAR OPINION FAVORED LEGION BAND AT CONTEST

Notwithstanding the verdict of the five judges, three of whom were from Williamsport, who gave first prize to a Williamsport Legion Post Band, the popular opinion expressed by attendants at the convention and the Williamsport people in general is that the John Shade Post Band of Clearfield was the crack organization of the convention.

It is quite apparent that the public and the press of Williamsport did not agree with the learned judges who rendered the decision as the public express surprise at the finding and the press is silent with not one word of tribute to their own band.

Clearfield has no less an opinion of their own band owing to the outcome of the contest for all familiar with the circumstances feel that an unfair advantage was taken of Professor Thayer's artists. And Clearfield is going to prove that we still think we have the best band in the state.

The Williamsport Grit, although making no mention of the band favored by the judges, has the following to say about our band and prints a picture of them on the march.

"The Clearfield Band distinguished itself very favorably during its stay in Williamsport. It was extremely generous with its music, responding to every request to play, and in addition doing voluntary work not on the stated program, in order to 'make things move.' It played excellently, and was a close second to the band that won the first prize, in the estimation of the judges, who made the award.

The people of Williamsport were quick to appreciate the good points of the band, as a musical organization, and the public spirit and fine qualities of its members as individuals, and the band and the whole Clearfield delegation left most pleasant memories behind them.

The band includes in its membership any of Clearfield's prominent men, among them R. S. Nightingale, Advertising Manager of The Clearfield Progress; R. A. Shaw, manager of the band, and H. Clark Thayer, director, formerly of McKinley's Own Band, a noted band organization.

GIFTS THAT LAST

You may give lots of things for the celebration of an anniversary, you may think that you have given something that will be appreciated—but there is something about the "gifts that last" that is as enduring as the eternal hills.

And where better would a little bit of jewelry or some piece of table ware fit in than in your gift ideas? Either or both are lasting as can be and you'll find that there's double satisfaction in them—you know you've given something that will endure and the recipient will have something to remember you by.

In view of this statement it is quite plain that Mr. Lee recognizes the shortcomings of public ownership which would mean government control throwing all problems into political settlements, and whether the administration be Republican, Democratic, Socialist, Labor, or whatever, the result would be the same.

Many large firms have already learned the wisdom of employing a company physician on a salary to take care of the health of their workmen. Wise communities will follow the same plan.

CURWENSVILLE

Mrs. Helen Bottorf, of State College, is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Twigg, Sr., on Bloomington avenue. The Bottorf family were former residents of Curwensville, and before his demise Mr. Bottorf was Pennsylvania station agent here for some years.

Mrs. Harry Rhodes, George street, met with quite a severe accident at her home Thursday. She was engaged in canning some fruit in glass jars, and in tightening a lid the jar broke, a piece of glass entered one of her hands and cut a long, deep gash necessitating eight or nine stitches to close it.

Three young men were up before "Squire" Date Thursday evening charged with malicious mischief and destruction of property at Irvin Park. Two of the defendants were found guilty and assessed with fine of $3 and costs. Against the third there was not sufficient evidence and he was discharged.

A number of ladies took time by the forelock, and those who had babies took them also, and went out to Greenwood hunting lodge Thursday evening and spent several hours in social enjoyment. Under the spell of Bill Peoples' fiddle, a good, old-fashioned square dance was indulged in by nearly all present.

A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Joshua Earl Sipes Post, American Legion, will be held in the Legion's rooms, South Fifth street, at which time Mrs. C. S. Russell, who represented that body at the Williamsport convention, will make her report. She was honored by being selected as one of the National delegates to the New Orleans convention and also made a member of the resolutions committee.

Rev. J. C. Collins and S. C. Watts attended a session of the Erie Methodist conference held in DuBois Thursday. Returning home that night and coming down Anderson Creek hill something went wrong with the auto and started to behave in a manner unbecoming to a well-regulated Ford. Rev. Collins jumped out and sustained a rip in his Sunday-go-to-meeting trousers as well as a few leg bruises. Watts stayed with the beast a few minutes longer than Collins when he jumped and left the machine to its own devices. It headed for the bank and took a leap over into the brush, skidding about forty feet down the hill. Marvelous, yet the accident did not put out the glimmers or even stop the engine. They left the machine where it landed and hoofed it back to town, thankful that they escaped without receiving serious injury.

Do not forget the Harvest Home services in the M. E. church Sunday morning. Neither neglect to bring along some "fruit or vegetables" for the Old Ladies' Supper at 4 p.m.

Adam Way, a life-long resident and farmer of Pike township, was reported yesterday morning as being quite ill at his home.

Mrs. Annie B. Clark, wife of Creighton Clark, passed away at her home in Pike township, near this place at 4:30 o'clock Friday morning. She suffered a stroke of apoplexy and did not have the vitality to overcome it. She was a daughter of Reuben and Charlotte Hall and was born and reared in Pike township, in the section that is known as the "Bailey settlement." Her age was 55 years, 6 months and a few days. In 1886 she was united in marriage to Creighton Clark, the ceremony being performed at Clearfield. The children of the family consisted of John, Jesse, James, Joseph, Genevieve, Josephine and Alice, all of whom survive her excepting James, who died in infancy, and John, who died in 1918. Her funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, a pastor of the Christian church officiating. Her remains will be interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

R. V. Diehl, a collector for the Prudential, was unfortunate Wednesday in losing a pocketbook containing $85 or $90. Friday the book was found quite a distance away from where it was dropped, but nary a cent was therein.

Wray's Ross and L. F. Mohney, of

DuBois, were business visitors to Curwensville yesterday. The latter is one of the editors of the Morning Courier. Ross at one time was one of the most expert telegraph operators in the United States, and has worked in all of the large newspaper offices taking press messages as his specialty. He was at one time Gen. Miles' private telegrapher, while the officer had command of the western division of the army, in the "early 80s."

Miss Belle Reed, who spent several years in Japan with her sister, Dr. Reed, spent several days in Curwensville this week visiting with friends. Thursday evening she gave a very interesting and instructive talk before the missionary society of the Presbyterian church. The people who composed her audience now have a far better conception of the missionary work being done in Japan than ever before.

WOODLAND

Mrs. William Livingstone and children have returned from a two-weeks visit with her sister at Karthaus.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed and children of Clearfield spent Sunday at the home of Ed Livergood.

Fred Herbert, Sr., and family visited relatives at Philipsburg and Muncion Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Davis and baby of Clearfield spent Saturday at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers.

An eight and one-half pound girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Casher on Friday morning, Sept. 8th. Both mother and babe are doing nicely.

Mrs. John Mohney of Clearfield visited on Wednesday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Peters.

J. M. Baker was on a business trip to Huntingdon this week.

Mrs. Dorsey Baird and Mrs. Reed Barger were Clearfield shoppers on Thursday.

About fifty young people held a weiner roast and lawn party at the home of Reed Barger on Thursday evening and all had the time of their lives, so to speak.

Rolly McDowell, who for a number of years has lived on the Pearce farm about two miles out of our town, has purchased the J. N. Palmer property on Main street and will shortly move into it. Mr. Wheeling, who now lives in the Palmer house, will occupy the Mrs. Alex Dugan property recently vacated by G. M. Leach, who moved to Pittsburgh.

To Prevent Dampness.
In damp weather always place a small wooden box filled with lime in the storeroom. This keeps the air dry and sweet, as the lime absorbs all the dampness.

Inbreeding of Sp. Cies.
In an experiment with 600 white rats belonging to the sixteenth to the twenty-fifth generations of brothers and sisters from the same litter it was found that close inbreeding produced no deterioration.

Noticeable Resemblance.
"Isn't that a Bouguereau?" asked Mrs. Oldcastle as they stopped for a moment to look at the new pictures. "Oh, my no," replied her hostess; "it's a lion." But I told Josiah when he brought it home that it looked a good deal more like one of them things you mention."

TALL GIRLS BACK IN FASHION

At a famous trial in this city, while William Travers Jerome was district attorney, the prosecutor asked a witness for her impression as to the age of a woman whose name had been brought into the proceedings. "Well," the other replied, "she was quite young. Her skirt did not come to her shoe tops."

The test would not have meant anything for some years past.

But an order has gone forth, and the statuesque woman has come into her own again. She is able once more to make the most of the inches that Providence has given her. Slimness and graceful lines are the most desired of all natural endowments.

As if overnight, the avenue is blossoming with "daughters of the gods" divinely tall and most divinely fair. The change is to the advantage of the majority. The big girls look very big, and even the medium ones look bigger than they were.

The short skirt was all right for the flapper type. It was difficult for those in whose case mystery was advantageous.—New York Telegram.

DEMAND PERSONAL EVIDENCE IN DAUGHERTY CASE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—The American Federation of Labor will take a hand in the impeachment proceedings brought against Attorney General Daugherty in the House. It was announced today when the Judicial Committee met to consider the Keller impeachment resolution. Representative Keller appeared before the committee but he presented no evidence and it was decided until next Tuesday. The committee refused Keller the right to summon witnesses and declared he must present personal evidence to support his charges before the committee will consent to delve into the case.

WANTED: LADY CASHIER

EFFICIENT "DRY"
ENFORCER MOVED TO JOHNSTOWN, PA.

Punxsutawney, Sept. 16.—W. J. Martsoff, head of prohibition agents in the Punxsutawney district, with W. A. Kelton, his efficient assistant, and the entire group of enforcement officers assigned to this district left this morning for Johnstown, Pa., where they will operate in the future.

O. R. Stiffler, who has just been re-instated as group head in the Johnstown district, arrived here this afternoon with his dry-agents and will work out of this city in the district of which Punxsutawney is headquarters.

While residents of this district know very little or nothing concerning the efficiency of Mr. Stiffler and his force, they feel they have been done an injustice through the transfer of Messrs. Martsoff and Kelton and their efficient aides.

Efficient Worker.

Mr. Martsoff organized his forces here in June of this year and during the three months' operation in this district 125 raids have been conducted. The vast majority of the worst "hoorah holes" in the district have been wiped out of existence. They had their work in the district outlined for many weeks to come and were in position to reach their maximum efficiency in this district. Citizens of this section feel that their transfer under such conditions is inadvisable and it is probable that a concerted effort to secure their return will be made.

At the present time they have many cases pending in Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, Center and Clarion counties and it will be necessary to close the Johnstown office at frequent intervals so they may appear in the various courts in this district to testify in the cases where they were responsible for arrests made.

Martsoff and his agents will doubtless be "good medicine" for the district of which Johnstown is the headquarters. They pursued their duties here relentlessly, without fear or favor and it is a safe bet that right at the present moment, District No. 8, of which Punxsutawney is headquarters, is the driest district in the entire State. To have the men responsible for this condition transferred right in the midst of their activities is far from gratifying to residents of this district.

Keeping Out the Cats.

LOCAL BOY DROWNED AT PITTSBURG

The remains of Roscoe Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Clark, of Clearfield, who was drowned in the Allegheny river at Pittsburg, were brought home yesterday and the funeral services will be held at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Ardary, 208 Pine street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Captain Watson of the Salvation Army will officiate.

The deceased, who was employed on a boat on the river, deciding to take a swim Thursday of last week, undressed on the deck of the boat and plunged into the river. No other person was present at the time and nothing is known as to the circumstances surrounding the occurrence, but when he did not show up when the boat was ready to leave, a search was made and the young man's clothes were found where he had left them and the facts of his disappearance and supposed drowning were reported to the authorities.

On Monday last the body of the young man was found in the river near where he had been drowned and was identified following an inquiry by the Allegheny county coroner, and notice sent to his parents' and family here.

Perfect Comfort on the Longest Tour

The 1923 Buick Six Touring Sedan—#1935

For touring to the "Big Game" this fall, driving on the boulevard, or slipping along a country road in the hazy moonlight of Indian Summer, this smart new Buick six cylinder touring sedan offers a degree of comfort that cannot be surpassed.

Long and low in appearance, it affords perfect riding ease and comfort for five passengers. Its well-knit chassis, new cantilever springs and strong frame take up the jere and jolts of the country road.

Broad plate glass windows give a wide vision to all occupants, while protecting them from chilling winds. Added warmth is provided by a heater. The interior of the Fisher built-body is finished in handsome plush with individual seats in front. Driving convenience is assured by a longer steering column at a lower angle, complete instrument panel and longer gear shift lever.

The Buick line for 1923 comprises fourteen models: Four—2 Pass. Roadster, $865; 5 Pass. Touring, $885; 5 Pass. Coupe, $1175; 5 Pass. Sedan, $1295; 5 Pass. Touring Sedan, $1335; Six—2 Pass. Roadster, $1175; 5 Pass. Touring, $1195; 5 Pass. Touring Sedan, $1235; 5 Pass. Sedan, $1295; 4 Pass. Coupe, $1565; 7 Pass. Touring, $1435; 7 Pass. TWO ENJOYABLE OCCASIONS

On Thursday evening Class No. 1 of the Lutheran Sunday school held their regular monthly meeting in the basement of the church. They had as their guests, the members of the choir, Sister Laura E. Gilliland and the pastor and family. After enjoying the games of the evening, all sat down to a bounteous repast, served as these young ladies can. All enjoyed the evening and at a late hour wended their way homeward glad they were so young and happy.

On Friday evening classes 4 and 11 motored out to Harry Schucker's, where they enjoyed a Weiner and corn roast. Besides weiners and corn there were marshmallows, grapes, apples, fresh cider and buns. There were nearly a hundred present to enjoy the fun. The evening was spent in playing games, eating and smashing straw hats. The Fullington Bros. furnished two jitneys to help convey the crowd out and back. These with a number of automobiles furnished accommodations for all. All felt very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Schucker for the invitation as well as the good things to eat and the good time they enjoyed. It was good to be there.

But It's a Wrong Conclusion.

The evil things, the materialistic things, the negative destructive things, always make so much more noise than the forces of harmony and beauty that the average individual may be forgiven if he concludes that there is nothing but turmoil and discord and hatred and gloom in the world.—Herbert Hughes.

Here is Huxley's Purpose.

To smile, all humbugs, however big; to give a nobler tone to science; to set an example of abstinence from petty personal controversies and of toleration for everything but lying; to be indifferent as to whether the work is recognized as mine or not, so long as it is done—are these my aims? 1800 will show.—From T. H. Huxley's Diary.

Sound Heard Round the World.

Phineas Shirk, the eminent statistician and mathematician, states that in 98.4 per cent of all the cities of the world it is possible to wake up at any hour of the night and hear somebody whistling a ditty.—Detroit Motor News.

Wide neckties are being shown for autumn wear. When they are the same material as the frock, they usually are fastened to the front, but frequently they are detachable, made of sheer lace or net. They are popular for children and grown-ups alike.
